

The Long White Cloud

Embark on an enchanting expedition through the North and South Islands that provides the perfect balance of relaxation and adventure. Explore extraordinary landscapes and the age-old legends of the Māori as you encounter exhilarating New Zealand as few have seen it before.

The water in Milford Sound is inky black – a combination of darkened fresh water and sea water. During rainfalls the water drains from the surrounding lush forests and washes a tannin which stains the water the colour of strong tea. There's approximately 6 meters of fresh water that sit on top of the ocean water, which blocks out the light making it uniquely ideal for deep sea life to thrive even in shallow waters.
